CAIRO CLAIMS FALL OF BARDIA IS IMMINENT

Britain Authorized to Negotiate New War Material Contracts

PLIGHT OF FASCIST FORCES AT TOBRUK IS BELIEVED PRECARIOUS

Cairo, Egypt, Dec. 19.—Italian rear guard forces left to defend Bardia, Libya's principal base in the frontier region, have been trapped and their way of escape to Tobruk is under aerial bombardment, British war communiques declared tonight.

"Advanced elements of our troops which have successfully contained numerically superior enemy forces in Bardia are being reinforced and the position of the remnants of the beaten Italian army in that area can now be regarded as precarious," said a British general headquarters communique.

The Royal Air Force, recounting raids and reconnaissance which took British planes over the western desert battle zone and also over the frontiers with Italian East Africa, reported: "The Bardia-Tobruk road was also bombed, but little movement was seen."

With the fall of Bardia apparently imminent, there were indications that the Italians also were making preparations to abandon Tobruk, 70 miles to the west.

GREEKS READY TO OCCUPY TWO ALBANIAN TOWNS

Struga, Yugoslavia (at the Albanian frontier), Dec. 19.—(P)—Feets of German transport planes were reported today to be shuttling Italian reinforcements across the Adriatic to the Albanian battlefield in an effort to halt the Greek counter-invasion.

Basel, Switzerland, Dec. 19.—(P)—The newspaper Le Democrat of Delémont reported today "from a good source in Zurich" that freight and civilian traffic have been suspended on the Brenner railway line to permit the passage of German divisions who are on their way to Italy.

THOUSANDS TO BENEFIT BY RATE REDUCTIONS

Harrisburg, Dec. 19.—(P)—Consumers of the Pennsylvania Power & Light Company in 28 counties were due today to share in $1,281,000 voluntary rate reduction approved unanimously by the Public Utility Commission, and effective March 1, 1941.

The reductions were offered to the commission, and are to be included in a new tariff to be filed by January 1. The rate slashes would apply to 411,406 customers in the largest utility area in the state, embracing a population of 1,650,000.

ONE DEAD IN SOUTHERN RAILROAD COLLISION

Tampa, Fla., Dec. 19.—(P)—One person was reported killed and an undetermined number injured today when two passenger trains crashed at a crossing a half mile south of Zephyr Hills, 28 miles from Tampa.

All available Tampa ambulances were sent to the scene of the accident.

The trains involved were the Sunbeam, crack Chicago-to-Tampa train of the seaboard, and the Atlantic Coast's Line No. 213, running from Jacksonville to Tampa.

GEN. BROOKE DIES

Carlisle, Dec. 19.—(P)—The Carlisle barracks were in mourning today for Brigadier General Roger Brooke, commandant of the army unit since last April, who died in Waller Reed Hospital, Washington, yesterday of a heart attack.

U.S.S. ARKANSAS AND FREIGHTER IN COLLISION

New York, Dec. 19.—(P)—A 26,100-ton battleship, the U. S. S. Arkansas, and a freighter a fifth her size collided in the dark hours of early morning off the Jersey Coast today, damaging the smaller vessel so badly that she had to be beached after limping 40 miles to New York harbor.

The crash occurred off Sea Girt about 3 a. m. None of the personnel aboard either ship was injured and the Arkansas, oldest battleship of its type in service, was practically undamaged.

Listing heavily to port, the Melrose, a 5,148-ton freighter was run aground by her master, Capt. George E. Tuibes, on Red Hook flats, a shallow off the Brooklyn shore—within sight of the Brooklyn drydock she had sought to reach.

The Arkansas carrying about 500 naval reservists—the last group of some 5,000 undergoing training for commissions—also continued on to New York and dropped her anchor in her customary spot in the Hudson.

The Melrose, with water pouring into two holds through her cracked plates, made New York under her own power, hugging the shoreline. Owned by the Mystic Steamship Company of Boston, an affiliate of the Koppers Coal Company, she was heading for Norfolk, Va., in ballast from New York.

Deputy Survives Gun Battle

While 1000 angry mountain men and three airplanes hunted the hills of Virginia and Kentucky for a father and son, Deputy Sheriff Bob Perry of Middleboro, Ky., above with his son, Paul Edwin, nursed a hand wound received in gun battle in which his superior officer was killed and the Middleboro police chief was seriously wounded. Object of the manhunt was Clyde Buchanan, 40, who is alleged to have fired on the officers as they attempted to arrest him, and then fled into the hills with his son, Clyde, 19.

German Industrial Center at Mannheim Has Third RAF Visit

London, Dec. 19.—(P)—An air raid warning sounded in the London area early this evening.

London, Dec. 19.—(P)—Three straight nights of RAF bombardment of Mannheim, southwestern German industrial, commercial and communications center, were described today in well-informed quarters as part of a British move to smash communications between Germany and Italy.

Linked with the third attack last night was an RAF smash at Genoa and an air raid on northern Italy, according to the Air Ministry's announcement.

Informed quarters stressed the Mannheim raids, however, as an attempt to smash communication links between the Axis powers while British troops continued their pressure against Italian forces in Libya and British air and sea forces helped the Greeks fight Italy in Albania.

By British count, Mannheim has been bombed 21 times since the war started. Aside from its importance in Axis communications, the city factories make submarine engines and provide other finished goods.

KENTUCKY BAD MAN IS KILLED BY ANGRY POSSE

Middlesboro, Ky., Dec. 19.—(P)—Clyde William Buchanan, 40, died today four hours after a posse of Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia officers wounded him in a gun-battle, near Wheeler, Va., where they found him after a two and a half day search.

Bell County Attorney Walter B. Smith, who directed the hunt for Buchanan, reported the capture late last night of Buchanan's son, Clyde, Jr., 15. The younger Buchanan fled into the mountains with his father after a pistol fight at their trailer camp in which Deputy Sheriff George W. Fisher, 63, was killed and two other officers were wounded early Tuesday, Smith said.

The elder Buchanan was wounded fatally, two bullets striking his head and one his abdomen, when he refused to surrender to 50 possemen who surrounded him in a cedar grove a quarter of a mile from the Wheeler railroad station.

The slaying of the deputy occurred.

FINLAND HAS A NEW PRESIDENT

Helsinki, Dec. 19.—(P)—Risto Ryti, acting president of Finland since last summer, today was elected president of the republic in succession to Kyosti Kallio, resigned, receiving 288 votes of an electoral college totaling Three Hundred.

He was formally named acting president November 29 when Kallio resigned because of ill health. A law stipulated that the electoral college should appoint a successor for the remainder of Kallio's term which ends in March, 1942.

Supreme Court Justice Urho Castrén was considered another strong candidate, although 200 of the electors meeting in party conferences yesterday were reported to have decided tentatively on Ryti.

(The Soviet press advised Finland Tuesday to choose a president who "will guarantee normal friendly relations with neighboring countries and avoid the ruinous path of adventures and experiments of any kind for Finland in foreign policy.")

Ryti, who is 51, became prime minister December 1, 1939, the day after the Russian-Finnish war started.

He has been one of the strong men of the Finnish republic for almost 20 years, as head of the Bank of Finland, minister of finance, prime minister and then acting president.

Appointed head of the Bank of Finland in 1923, Ryti became a financial figure of international note, being credited with stabilizing the Finnish currency.

EXPECT LOGAN-WALTER BILL TO COME UP AGAIN

Washington, Dec. 19.—(P)—Friend and foe alike predicted today that the objectives of the Logan-Walter bill, vetoed by President Roosevelt, would become law at the next session of congress with his approval.

Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.), cosponsor of the legislation, announced that he would introduce the same measure the first day of the new congress and Rep. McCormack (D-Mass.), an outspoken opponent of that bill, said action on legislation, "probably drawn, has only been delayed."

The controversial measure, designed to expedite appeals from decisions and decisions of many quasi-judicial federal agencies, met an official, if temporary, death yesterday when the house voted to sustain the president's veto. A motion to override the veto received a vote of 153 to 127, but fell far short of the constitutional requirement that two-thirds of the attending members of both house and senate must approve before a vetoed measure can become law.

With the Logan-Walter bill disposed of, adjournment talk bobbed up once more in the house, but met a cool reception from senate Republicans. The question was regarded as somewhat academic, since little if any business is before congress and the session would end automatically anyway.

"Go Ahead" Order Given by Chief Executive to Purchasing Commission Pending Final Action by Congress

First Agreement Under Roosevelt's "Lease-Lending" Plan to Be for Sixty Merchant Vessels for Which Cash Will Be Paid

Washington, Dec. 19.—(P)—The Roosevelt administration authorized the British government today to negotiate at once, possibly totaling $3,000,000,000—and simultaneously considered establishing a "high command" for the defense program.

Secretary Morgenthau, disclosing White House approval of the negotiations, said that no British contracts actually would be signed until Congress could act on President Roosevelt's "lease-lending" plan.

He disclosed, however, that the British were contracting now for 60 merchant ships for which they would pay cash and which would not have to await approval of the presidential program.

From other sources it was learned that the British were seeking contracts for 12,000 additional planes, at a possible cost of $1,125,000,000; 2,000 to 2,500 more tanks, and guns and ammunition costing about $1,700,000,000.

The White House, meanwhile, disclosed that the President had under consideration at least four or five plans for injecting speed into the defense program. One involves a proposal to establish a "high command" for the program headed by Secretaries Stimson and Knox and William S. Knudsen, industrial production chief of the defense commission.

Stephen Early, presidential secretary, said this suggestion had been discussed at a White House conference yesterday.

Stimson, Knox and assistant War Secretary Patterson and Under-Secretary Forrestal of the navy met with the chief executive, and Early said he assumed they presented the plan to the President.

Mr. Roosevelt called the cabinet together this afternoon and will meet the defense commission tomorrow, reversing the usual order. Early left the impression with reporters that some announcement might result from the discussions.

Except for the ship order, which the British intend to pay for themselves, Morgenthau added, "there will be no more British contracts until Congress has a chance to study them."

The proportions of President Roosevelt's plan for unlimited aid to Britain in "mortgaged material" strengthened belief today that new tactics were being worked out to push armament industries to peak production as fast as possible.

Approval of the mortgaged material plan by the next congress, officials pointed out, would mean an avalanche of additional military orders for factories now either behind in delivery on present contracts or hard pressed to keep up.

EXPLODES IN THE AIR

Riverside, Calif., Dec. 19.—(P)—Secretary surrounded an inquiry March field officials launched today into the deaths of six army fliers in the crash and explosion of a giant 22-ton, four-engine bombing plane on the frozen, snow-peaked slopes of nearby San Jacinto mountains.

Flying high through intermittent patches of clouds, heavy mist and clearings, the B-7 type plane, which was on a routine training flight, struck the 6,700 foot snow-line of Marston mountain in San Bernardino national forest yesterday and left wreckage strewn for half a mile along the boulder and tree-dotted slopes.

The dead: 1st Lieut. Harold J. Turner, pilot, Corning, Pa.; 1st Lieut. Donald T. Ward, co-pilot, West Los Angeles; 1st Lieut. Vernon McCauley, navigator, Riverside; Sgt. Thomas F. Sweet, flight engineer, Riverside; Corp. Frank J. Jirak, assistant engineer, Salem, Ore.; Pvt. James C. Sessions, radioman, Bisbee, Ariz.

So twisted and broken was the charred wreckage that the army investigating board faced the prospect of perhaps never being able to solve the mystery of the crash.

SUPREME DANGER IS INVASION

Prime Minister Churchill In Pre-Christmas War Review Before Commons, Warns "Hitler Must Do Something Now, Or At Any Rate In Next Two Months", and Speaks Joyfully of Continuing Offensive Against Italy In Africa

INSISTS DEFENSES OF BEACHES IS COMPLETE

By the Associated Press

London, Dec. 19.—(P)—Adolf Hitler needs "to do something now or at any rate in the next two months," Prime Minister Churchill declared today, therefore German invasion still is Britain's "supreme danger."

At the same time, in his pre-Christmas war review before Commons, Churchill spoke joyfully of Britain's continuing offensive against Italy in Africa and optimistically of Britain's chances next year of armed parity with Germany.

If Britain's 1941 strength is not used in defense of the British Isles, Churchill said, it may be used in "other theaters," but he did not say what they might be.

The battle of Africa, he declared, has cost Britain less than 1,000 killed and wounded as against capture of at least 30,000 prisoners and much material, but above all had demonstrated the quality of British empire forces, permitting Britain "to take bolder views than those open to us before."

Churchill suggested that the present tapering off of the German air siege of Britain might mean "preparation for some other form of activity against Britain." Bad weather, he acknowledged, might be the chief factor, he said.

At the same time, Churchill dropped a hint of Britain's own long range offensive planning when he said that she would be "well armed in 1941" and "no doubt we shall find opportunities of using our forces if not in defense of this island, in other theatres on terms of moderate equality in numbers and equipment."

If Britain's 1941 strength is not used in defense of the British Isles, Churchill said, it may be used in "other theaters," but he did not say what they might be.

The battle of Africa, he declared, has cost Britain less than 1,000 killed and wounded as against capture of at least 30,000 prisoners and much material, but above all had demonstrated the quality of British empire forces, permitting Britain "to take bolder views than those open to us before."

Churchill suggested that the present tapering off of the German air siege of Britain might mean "preparation for some other form of activity against Britain." Bad weather, he acknowledged, might be the chief factor, he said.

At the same time, Churchill dropped a hint of Britain's own long range offensive planning when he said that she would be "well armed in 1941" and "no doubt we shall find opportunities of using our forces if not in defense of this island, in other theatres on terms of moderate equality in numbers and equipment."

London, Dec. 19.—(P)—Adolf Hitler needs "to do something now or at any rate in the next two months," Prime Minister Churchill declared today, therefore German invasion still is Britain's "supreme danger."

At the same time, in his pre-Christmas war review before Commons, Churchill spoke joyfully of Britain's continuing offensive against Italy in Africa and optimistically of Britain's chances next year of armed parity with Germany.

Peace of Berlin
Disappoints Him

The fact that the R. A. F. was not conducting an air raid when he arrived in Berlin is reported to have disappointed five-year-old Axel Gorm Anderson, above. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Axel Anderson of Woodside, L. I., he is traveling home alone from Trondheim, Norway, where he was marooned by the German invasion.

TIMES TOPICS

CLOSING HOURS
According to an Associated Press dispatch from Harrisburg, all Pennsylvania liquor stores with the exception of two will close at 9 p. m. Christmas Eve and New Year's Eve. The state control board announced today that the store at 530 Wood street, Pittsburgh, and at 1227 Walnut street, Philadelphia, will be open until 11 p. m.

NO DAMAGE
The fire department was called to the Smith-Horton Company on Tuesday afternoon to extinguish a blaze in the wood housing surrounding a user to the old water tank of the wholesale house, which is being demolished for junk by a Jamestown firm. Although it took some time for the firemen to halt the blaze, there was no material damage.

IN TELEPHONE NEWS
The current issue of the Bell Telephone News contains a picture of two Warren district men, both members of the Bell Telephone Company's Honor Roll. They are Harry W. Green, of Bradford, and Harry E. Gnagey, of Warren. The picture was taken at a recent Pioneer meeting. The same issue also contains a group picture of Bell Telephone men and women who attended the annual fall meeting of the Warren district, held in the Conewango Club here, and a group of photographs of the party of the Warren and New Castle districts, held at Conneaut Lake.

CHRISTMAS BONUS
Extra Christmas cash will again be distributed by the S. S. Kresge Company to approximately 38 employees in the two Warren stores. It was announced today by Frank A. Wood and J. A. Krautkremer, managers. This cash remembrance is in accordance with a company policy extending over many years. Individual amounts will be determined by the length of service of each employee. All regular and part-time employees employed before July 1 will share in the distribution.

...and Good Will to Kids

In these days of little peace on earth, it sort of makes you feel better to know that there still is left some good will to men. The glow comes when you find out about a fellow like Patrolman Frank Williams of North Arlington, N. J. A cop on the beat, he knows about poor kids. That's how he came his hobby of collecting broken toys, and devoting days and days of his scant time off to fixing them up for needy youngsters. He's pictured above, in his workshop, where he and his wife have repaired 1500 toys this year.

KIWANIS CLUB
HEARS PLEASING
TALK ON BRAZIL

At the weekly luncheon meeting of the Warren Kiwanis Club, held yesterday noon at the Y. W. C. A. activities building, members enjoyed a very interesting talk by Lieutenant Commander Zenithille Magno de Carvalho, of the Brazilian Navy, who is in Warren on a mission for his government at the National Forge & Ordnance Company.

The lieutenant commander, who was introduced by H. R. Good, opened his talk by telling of the natural resources of his country and the possibilities for increased trade between the United States and Brazil.

He then outlined the position of Brazil, largest South American country, in regard to world politics.

Lieutenant Commander Carvalho stressed the necessity of keeping totalitarian powers from gaining a foothold in Brazil and the importance of this stand to the United States.

He said he doesn't believe there is danger of Nazi influence from within the country. However, he said that the country must prepare itself to resist any possible invasion of forces from outside the country. He expressed confidence that the United States would never permit any armed force to invade Brazil or any other Central or South American country.

During the meeting yesterday, President H. D. Harris welcomed George C. Sarvis, a former member, back into the club. F. W. Bathurst announced that home rooms in the high school which received prizes for collecting toys to be repaired by local firemen, have turned this money, totaling $6.00, over to the Times-Mirror Santa Claus Fund. It was announced by S. M. McClure, chairman of the Warren County Chapter, American Red Cross, that the total to date in the 1940 Roll Call is $3,281.51, with about 15 districts to report. He expressed confidence that the final total would exceed that of last year, $3,625.

Announcement was made by Dr. J. R. Elliott, chairman of the Christmas party, that plans are complete for the party to be given Saturday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. for members of the Saturday evening Boys Club, which is sponsored by the Kiwanians.

On the Firing Line in Egypt

British Tommies with Bren machine gun and rifle take up the firing line on the hottest of their far flung empire's many hot spots—Egypt. Attacking simultaneously from land, sea and air, British troops flung back toward Libya Italy's bogged-down thrusts at the Suez Canal lifeline.

PUBLIC LIBRARY NOTES

During the next few days reading will be somewhat of a rush. But as soon as the Christmas rush is over, the opportunity of settling down to a good book for an evening is something many readers will welcome. A variety of tempting new titles that should help one over the after Christmas let-down may be found among the books added this week to the library's collection.

From Many Lands by Louis Adamie is an event in American literature and in American democracy. In unforgettable language Louis Adamie presents with warm and penetrating understanding some of the people from other lands who have contributed so richly to our culture. The whole immigrant problem is so clearly stated that we are challenged to approach it not with prejudice and superficial observation but with intelligence and deep understanding. It is a book which seems so important to us today when the world is torn with opposite of what this book represents.

The other new books to be circulated at the library for the first time Saturday morning at nine o'clock are Those First Affections by Dorothy Van Doren; The Public Library, A People's University by Alvin Johnson; Cyclopaedia of Religious Anecdotes by J. G. Lawson; Understanding Children by L. J. Sherill; The Case for Democracy by Ordway Tead; Choosing a College by J. R. Tunis; Let's Fly by E. G. Vetter; Decoration by S. M. Lockwood; Winter Tale by Robert Nathan; Vesper Dramas by M. L. Bach; Digging in the Southwest by Mrs. E. B. DuBois; My Lantern by Michi Kawai; Savage Symphony by Eva Lips; and Twenty Short Plays, Volume two, edited by M. Mayorga.

Many attractive new titles have been recently added to the recent collection. Some of these are: The Voyage by Charles Morgan; Oliver Twist by Kenneth Roberts; Europe in the Spring by Clare Boothe; Ox-Boy Incident by W. V. Clark; Sergeant Lamb's America by Robert Graves; Fielding's Folly by Mrs. F. P. Keyes; With Love and Irony by Lin Yutang; Bright Pavilions by Hugh Walpole; Embezzled Heaven by Franz Werfel; Ill-made Knight by T. H. White; Sapphira and the Slave Girl by Willa Cather; Landfall by Nevil

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—There was an earthquake in town the other night and I hope we never see the like of it.

Nobody was hurt, but it left a section of Tokyo a shambles. It was a holler and a humdingy; a shivery, shattering, shuddery thing that in two minutes it wrecked a house, a garden, and background buildings—yet at the same time was one of the best behaved earthquakes one could wish.

It should have been. In the movies, the more terrible and unexpected a catastrophe, the more carefully must it be rehearsed and planned. George Stevens, the rector, rehearsed this one for five hours, before, around midnight, they "shot" it. The earthquake is a key sequence in "Penny Serenade." In this same Japanese house, two-storied and quaint, Cary Grant and Irene Dunne had been doing peaceful, romantic scenes for days. Unlike most people, they knew all along that their love nest was going to fall apart.

THERE were cameras all around. A set that has taken three weeks to construct, with special tremor contrivances concealed in its parts, has to give a good shaky performance the first time, with no re-takes allowed. For the production there were a dozen different crews, each with a vital mission. Stevens himself sat at a lighted keyboard down front. On his keyboard were a dozen red lights and a dozen electric pushbuttons controlling similar red lights at the 12 stations.

Things do go wrong, sometimes. Some of the frightened people in the memorable "San Francisco" shake weren't acting—they were scared silly. When they were ready for the bricks to fall in "Frisco Jenny"—the nice, soft, papier mache bricks—someone thought they ought to be tested first. The first one tested proved to be a real, solid, hard specimen of Irish confetti.

BUT nothing went wrong here—except as planned. When Stevens pushed Button One the steam hammer smashed and then it was bedlam and chaos, beautifully synchronized. The big steam which got to work almost instantly, and then, as button after button felt the Stevens touch, calamity piled upon calamity. The frame house danced, vases toppled, furniture skidded, windows crashed and floors and roofs collapsed. Button Three broke the "water main" outside, sending up a gusher in the garden. Button Five billowed clouds of dust. In the background, a brick building, constructed of tiny individual bricks, split its front and disintegrated spectacularly. A huge beam (of balsa wood, feather-light) snapped and crashed into the foreground. It was terrible.

In two minutes it was over—and two minutes was enough.

They'll be adding the earthquake sound effects later—and I hope they don't use any of this newfangled sound that leaps at you from all parts of the theater. They'll have a stampede if they do.

TRAIL PRISONER Bellefonte, Dec. 19. (AP) The disappearance of 26-year-old Henry Brewer, prisoner of the Rockview Penitentiary, had prison officials wondering today, and two bloodhounds raced over the area in the search.

Brewer failed to report for the usual check-up, but Deputy Warden C. C. Edwards was puzzled over a possible escape by sending a wire stockade in view of fellow convicts and guards. A hunt was started in the labyrinth of tunnels beneath the prison grounds.

FLYING SERVICE BURNS New Kingston, Dec. 19. (AP)—Flight data of 80 student flyers—including 20 Dickinson College pilots five parachutes valued at $200 each, and all records of the Wilson Flying Service, on the Harrisburg-Carlisle pike, were destroyed by fire yesterday. Workmen arriving at the scene to help complete the new structure found the place in ruins. A strong wind and a 250-gallon drum of fuel oil, used for the furnace, speeded the flames.

FORMER HEAD CONVICTED Reading, Dec. 19. (AP) A conviction on a charge of perjury was returned by a jury here against Harry Brown, former president of the Workers' Alliance. The charge was an outgrowth of the circulation of a petition to obtain a place on the state election ballot for the Communist party. Attorneys announced they would seek a new trial.

On a mountain road in California, a heavy wire mesh fence is being used to prevent rocks falling on the roads and endangering motorists.

1ST CLASS RATE FOR CHRISTMAS CARDS IS URGED

In a recent radio address Postmaster General Walker made the statement that "from six to eight million holiday greeting cards, mailed under the third class rate, were destroyed last year throughout the United States, due to the fact that they could not be delivered as addressed on account of the removal of the addressee or other causes which prohibits the forwarding or delivery of this class of mail."

Included in third class mail are Christmas cards which are sent in an unsealed envelope under a 1 1/2 cent stamp, which may bear a written or printed inscription such as "Merry Christmas", "Happy New Year" and the name of the sender, but nothing in the nature of personal correspondence and which can not be forwarded free if the addressee has moved, nor returned to sender if undeliverable.

The Post Office Department, therefore, has requested the local postmasters to acquaint their patrons with the advantages of mailing Christmas greetings by first class mail, 2 cents local—3 cents outside. Such messages may be sealed, may contain a written message, will be forwarded without extra cost, or returned to sender if undeliverable if it bears the sender's return card.

The department also suggests that a Christmas card is a personal message of best wishes and greeting to a friend. Why not emphasize that thought by assuring it's safe and speedy delivery.

The postmaster requests the further cooperation of the public in the handling of holiday greetings and asks that cards and letters, before being brought to the office for mailing, be tied in separate bundles for local and outside dispatch. The postmaster also stated that late mailing for distant points should be dispatched by air mail to assure delivery by Christmas.

A TINY-WAISTED SPORTS DRESS

PATTERN 4632

By Anne Adams

Worth its weight in gold is this casual little wool dress that carries you smartly through a busy day! Pattern 4632 is a youthful Anne Adams newcomer with an easy-going, softly tailored look. There's news in that set-in, front-buttoned belt that seems to whittle down your waistline. And there's more news in the full skirt, gathered at the side front so becomingly. The neckline is convertible—button it high or turn it back into revers. You may either button the bodice to the waist, leaving the skirt down the center or have a stunning, full-length buttoning. Those high-riding pockets are chic; your sleeves may be "cuffed" length, long or short. Choose a soft, bright color wool or a span rayon for this dress.

Pattern 4632 is available in junior sizes 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16 and 17. Size 13 takes 2 1/2 yards of 1 1/2 inch fabric.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS and STYLE NUMBER.

Are you too tall? Too short? Too plump? Too slim? If you are irregularly proportioned in any way, let the ANNE ADAMS PERFECT FOUNDATION PATTERNS 4114 take the guess-work out of dressmaking. This "basic" pattern is fitted and adjusted to your exact measurements in tissue; then cut out in muslin for a permanent record. Pin your dress patterns to it, make the necessary changes, and the finished frock will fit with perfection. Designed for sizes 14 to 20;

Traffic Lanes, "Made to Order," by New Curbs

Traffic lanes, "made to order" by curbs that rise and descend, are helping solve traffic problems along Chicago's lake front highway. Curbs are normally flush with the pavement. Hydraulic lift quickly raises them nine inches, making various combinations of lanes in the roadways, depending on traffic volume of the moment. The new elevating curbs, pictured above in use, were designed by traffic engineer Otto E. Jelinek.

LAW CHANGE TO BRING END TO SHORT WEIGHT

Harrisburg, Dec. 19—Strengthening of present law is necessary at the hands of the coming session of the Legislature if the Department of Internal Affairs is to cope successfully with sellers of short-weight coal. Secretary of Internal Affairs, William S. Livengood, Jr., told a committee of the Pennsylvania Retail Coal Dealers Association at a recent conference.

"We have had more than 300 prosecutions the past year," Secretary Livengood said, "but I am convinced we have merely scratched the surface."

Secretary Livengood outlined to the committee changes in the law which he believed necessary to curb the short-weight evil.

"It is the duty of the Bureau of Standard Weights and Measures to protect the consumers of coal from dishonest coal sellers and to protect the legitimate dealers from dishonest dealers," the Secretary added, "and while we have been diligent in this work we are handicapped by an old and inadequate law the provisions of which were sufficient for the period in which it was adopted but which are entirely insufficient now."

The Committee told the Secretary that the retail dealers realize the difficulty and will undertake to see that defects are corrected in a bill to be presented at the coming meeting of the Assembly.

WHICH WAY'D HE GO

Harrisburg, Dec. 19—(AP)—A letter to Santa Claus, tagged to a Christmas tree in Nova Scotia, found its way to Harrisburg today. C. Zerby Shunk found the note while unloading a carload of trees. It read:

"Dear Santa: I hope you will leave a present on this tree for me. Chesley Feltrate, Eight Islands Lake, Guys County, Nova Scotia."

WITH PICTURES, PLEASE

Harrisburg, Dec. 19—(AP)—The hunter with the bow and arrow who bagged a deer or a bear this season was asked by the state game commission to report the incident, with pictures if possible. Said the commission: "They ought to be proud of their feat," and it added, it was anxious to have as complete chronicling as possible.

While on the subject of "gift" hands, I ought to tell you about a hand I played at rubber bridge in St. Louis, at the home of John E. Simon. Before we started to play, some of the players said, "Unless we announce it, we will play the Blackwood Convention." Whereupon I dealt this hand.

I opened the bidding with two spades, and when my partner promptly jumped to four no trump, I decided he was making a Blackwood bid. Having one ace, my response was five diamonds. To my utter amazement, my partner's next bid was six diamonds, and I realized that he was not using the Blackwood Convention.

Of course, over six diamonds I bid six hearts, which was doubled by the opponent on my left. Now my partner became a little bit confused by the bidding, and bid six no trump. Again the opponent on my left doubled.

Now here is where the gift comes in. You can see that we could always make six hearts or six spades, but East now had quite a problem as to the opening lead. Should he cash his ace of diamonds? Or did the double of six no trump indicate that his partner had one of the major suits stopped? After much thought, East opened a spade. My partner's worries were not over then, but he refused to take the heart finesse, cashed the ace and king and dropped the queen, making a grand slam. Thus my nice gift in St. Louis was a contract of six no trump doubled, which is always welcome at rubber bridge.

Program Announced For Gatty Sellers' Recital at Trinity

Playing of the world's greatest compositions in descriptive organ literature on some of the world's most magnificent organs has earned for Gatty Sellers the reputation which critics unanimously agree is so richly deserved, and those who like fine organ music are given the opportunity of hearing this virtuoso at Trinity Memorial Episcopal church at 7:30 o'clock this evening.

Gatty Sellers is no ordinary organist. He has been for some years the solo organist at the great Alexandra Palace in London, which replaced the costly Crystal Palace, and his performances are always attended by His Majesty, the King of England.

The organ here is considered one of the largest and finest in Europe, its splendid tone being unsurpassed. It was on this instrument that Sellers gave the first London performance of his own composition "Rhapsody on the Reformation Hymn" and, after seeing the score of this notable work, one of Italy's greatest organists addressed the composer as "the maestro".

His two-part program here this evening will include the following selections:

PART I.
Toccata-con Fuga in D Minor... J. S. Bach
Sunset at the Abbey... J. S. Bach
Agnus Dei, from "L'Arlésienne Suite"... Bizet-Sellers
Tone Poem-Finlandia... Sibelius
Nuptial Song... Friml
Tone Picture—An Ocean Tempest... G. Sellers

PART II.
Rhapsody on the Reformation Hymn—Ein Feste Burg
March Crown Imperial... Sellers
March... W. Walton
(Played at the coronation at Westminster Abbey)

(a) Felicity... G. Sellers
(b) Oriental Tone Picture... G. Sellers
Pomp and Circumstance March... E. Elgar
Extemporization on a requested theme.

The only charge for this fine evening of music will be a silver offering for Bibles for Britain.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM AT GOULTOWN CHURCH

The annual Sunday school Christmas program will be presented at the Gouldtown Community church at eight o'clock Sunday evening, December 29, in charge of Mrs. Hazel Nicholson and Mrs. Elisabeth Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Erikson and family, of Frewsburg, N. Y., visited Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Erikson Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Norberg and daughter, of Quaker Bridge, N. Y., called upon Mrs. Augusta Norberg and Miss Frances Norberg Sunday afternoon.

GIRL RESERVE MOTHERS' CLUB

Twenty members of the Girl Reserve Mothers' Club enjoyed a tureen luncheon Wednesday afternoon at the Y. W. C. A. activities building.

The table was beautifully decorated with a Christmas tree and red candles.

Following the serving, a brief business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. L. R. Sherwood.

Afterward, Christmas carols were sung and a collection was taken for the High School Girls' to assist members in caring for a needy family at Christmas-time.

HEMLOCK COMMUNITY CLUB ENJOYS PARTY

The Hemlock Community Club members held their annual Christmas party last evening, preceded by a delicious ham dinner.

Mrs. L. L. Geer was hostess for the evening.

A program of songs and recitations was featured by a duet by Ivan Tuller and Don Carlson; a solo by Audrey Brownell. Afterward, candy and oranges were distributed to about 40 members and friends.

ENGSTROM-MCINTYRE

Announcement is made of the marriage of Ellen McIntyre and Levin E. Engstrom, both of Jamestown, N. Y., which took place Sunday evening at the parsonage of the Buffalo Street Methodist church in that city.

Rev. Ralph E. Stiles officiated and the attendants were Beatrice E. McIntyre and Gunnard E. Engstrom.

Mr. Engstrom, son of the late A. V. Engstrom, formerly resided at 28 North South street, this city.

REHEARSAL AT FIRST PRESBYTERIAN

There will be a rehearsal for all members of the beginners' and primary departments of the First Presbyterian church at two o'clock Saturday afternoon. After the rehearsal, the children will enjoy a Christmas party in their department rooms.

Parents are reminded that the Christmas program of these groups will begin promptly at 9:45 o'clock Sunday morning and are urged to be present with their children at that time.

GRAY AND WRIGHT MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Merle Wright, of Spring Creek, announce the marriage of their daughter, Alzora, to Melvin E. Gray, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Gray, of Warren, R. D. 3.

The ceremony took place in Erie on December 7. Rev. Gilbert Lloyd performing the ceremony. The couple will reside near Spring Creek.

FAREWELL FOR MRS. WHELOCK

Mrs. Paul Wheelock, who is leaving soon to make her home in Florida, was honored last evening with a farewell party given by Mrs. Bertha Mohr and Mrs. Alfred Johnson, as the home of the former in Pennsylvania.

Games were enjoyed and refreshments were served at a table attractive in holiday appointments. A number of remembrances were presented to the honored guest.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM AT U. B. CHURCH

The Sunday school of the First United Brethren church will meet in the church Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock for the annual Christmas program and treat. A fine program is being planned by the primary and junior departments and all members and friends of the Sunday school are cordially invited.

57th ANNIVERSARY OF JOSEPH DEVORES

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DeVore, well known residents of 10 Maple street, will observe their 57th wedding anniversary on December 28 and friends will join with their family in congratulations and best wishes.

Girl Reserves Have Enjoyable Party In Activities Building

Approximately 170 Girl Reserves from local grade schools, Beatty, North Warren and Starbrick gathered in the Y. W. C. A. activities building Wednesday afternoon for their annual Christmas party.

Nancy Jane Black, as master of ceremonies, introduced the various numbers on the program, each group presenting some number representing their school.

The program was opened with singing of "O Little Town of Bethlehem," accompanied by Teresa Fino, after which Miss Florence Armstrong, Girl Reserve secretary, read the Christmas Scripture.

The program as given by schools, was as follows:

South Street—Dorothy Rosen- trater and Joyce Callahan, singing "Ferryboat Serenade"; poem, "Christmas Trees," Delores Massa;

Jolly, Jolly Santa Claus. Joyce Peterson, Shirley Anderson and Joyce Warren; "Once in Royal David's City," Dorothy Malnes; piano solo, "The Pickles," Good Night Song, Joyce Delahymple; "Deck the Halls," Dot Rosenstrater, Joyce Callahan, Vivian Allinger, Marjory Edick, Mary Lewis, Doretta Warren and Geraldine Robillard.

East Street—Tap dance. Ann Livingston; "Christmas Prayer," Fay Ellen Osmond; acrobatic stunt, Marilyn Dobbs accompanied by Teresa Fino; baton twirling, Nancy Jane Black.

Lacy. "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear," violin solo by Billie McKendrick, accompanied at the piano by Frances Harding; singing by Polly Mathis and Jeannine Mathyer; selections by fifth grade harmonica group.

McClintock—Song by Lois Traub, Ruth Conklin, Rose DeStefano, Mary Rhoades, Charlotte Harrison and Helen Whipple; poem, Marcella Lichtenberger.

Starbrick—Song and dance by Arlene Schuler, Martha Martin, Doris Walker, Virginia Hamblin, Joyce York, Rose Salepek and Lois McCain.

To conclude, the entire group sang "Silent Night," with Teresa Fino accompanying.

St. Joseph Players Enjoy Comedy; Plan For Coming Months

A very entertaining evening was enjoyed on Wednesday by members of St. Joseph Players' Club, with a good attendance at the church hall. During a brief business meeting, the president, John Aleno, announced some of the committees for the public production, "Before Morning," to be given February 6-7. These will be announced in full as soon as the lists have been completed.

It was announced, also, that because of preparations for the public performances, the January meeting will have an impromptu program of monologues instead of a studio play.

James Mahood directed the one-act comedy given last evening, with the following cast in "It Wouldn't Happen To Us": Margaret Hughes, August Bova, Elizabeth Wells, Francis Font, Thomas Grace, Ralph Pasquino and Ray Weiss.

Mrs. George Cunningham and T. J. Scallise were in charge of refreshments and entertainment for the remainder of the evening.

Series of Services At Reformed Church

The observance of Christ's birth at the Emanuel Evangelical and Reformed church will begin with the Christmas communion service at 9:45 o'clock Sunday morning, continuing with the church school sessions at 10:45 and the annual program of the church school at 7:30 in the evening.

This last service will include recitations and songs by the primary and beginners' departments, and will feature a sacred pageant entitled "The Heart of Christmas." This will be presented by the following cast of characters:

Virginia, Ruth Zurcher: Sunday school class officers, Freda Dahler, Lucile Schumann, Dale Alenderinger, Gilbert Johnson; innkeeper, Herbert Dickerson; Mary, Lorena Dickerson; Joseph, Clarence Zurcher; shepherds, Ronald Roth, Robert McDonald, Donald Weiss; wise men, Robert Tannler, Jack Flick, Gilbert Taft; Spirit of Christmas, junior girls; music, Ruth Fischer.

The union Christmas service of the three East Side parishes will take place at the Salem Evangelical church on Christmas Eve, starting at eleven o'clock.

At four o'clock on Christmas Day, a vesper service will be held in the Emanuel Evangelical and Reformed church.

SALEM PIONEERS

The Pioneers of the Salem Evangelical church will hold their regular business and social meeting in the church at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow evening and all are asked to be on hand.

Men: Don't Forget Her Christmas Stockings, and Be Sure and Make Them Mojuds

Perhaps you've bought other things for "Her"—but no matter, because you'll still have to include hose... The reason is plain enough—no item cuts so big a hole into "Her" clothes budget as silk hose—so when you give her hose you're giving an item close to her heart—and her purse.

Mojuds are sheer, clear and glamorous—the best of fine hose. Chiffons in 2-3- and 4-thread, service weight, too.

All hose boxed without extra charge and when men buy "Gifts for Her" at Miller's, packages are wrapped with all the trimmings, ready for gift giving—no extra cost.

Christmas Sunday in Churches

First Christmas Is Depicted in Lovely First Baptist Drama
 Carols and Pageant Three Services For Christmas Sunday In The First Methodist

"The Other Shephard", scenic and impressive drama of the first Christmas, is being presented Sunday evening at 7:30 in the sanctuary of the First Baptist church. Impersonating Ethan, the other shephard, will be Rev. James A. Davidson, pastor of the church. In other roles are: Rachel, Ethan's mother, Mrs. F. H. Hetrick; Shepherds of Bethlehem, Jared, Abel and Zeri, by Walter Confer, John Dunham and Robert Williams; Rebecca and Deborah, women of Bethlehem, Mrs. Calvin Euerkle, Mrs. Good; Amrah, sister, Ethan, Miss Viola Lindmark; Reuel, her son, Donald Owens; Joseph, Harry Clark; Mary, Dorothy Ann Harris.

The play is depicted in four scenes. The first, a hill pathway near the outskirts of Bethlehem, where Ethan bids farewell to the familiar scenes and his loved ones to spend the remainder of his life in the service of God in the Holy City, only to reverse his decision when brought face to face with the duty lying nearest at hand.

The second scene shows Mary and Joseph on the same pathway, journeying to Jerusalem, and they are joined by Ethan and Reuel, following the former's decision to return to Bethlehem and Ethan and Reuel recognize in the Babe of Bethlehem a new shephard.

The third is that of the shepherds watching their flocks by night on the hills near Bethlehem when the marvelous revelation comes and they hear the angels proclaiming the birth of a saviour.

In the closing climactic scene, which takes place at dawn the next day, the shepherds rejoice over the new-born saviour as they return from Bethlehem and Ethan and Reuel recognize in the Babe of Bethlehem a new shephard. Scenic and lighting effects are so arranged to make the whole story realistic and impressive. Friends throughout the community are invited to share in this presentation.

Christmas Program At Grace Methodist

The Sunday school of the Grace Methodist church will present "Rays From the Star of Bethlehem" at 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening and invites all members and friends of the school and church.

This program, arranged by Ma-belle J. Lundahl, presents the meaning of the Saviour's star in its five-point rays: Joy, Peace, Faith, Love and Service. Five girls dressed in white, as heralds, introduce the message of their particular ray with a verse of Scripture and hold a golden ray, on which is written the word, until the songs, recitations and exercises belonging to that section have been given; then fastens her ray to the large star forming the background.

The star, when completed, brings the Christmas message and a challenge to follow this star, as did the wise men of old.

Of all fire alarms sounded in American cities, approximately 11 per cent are for fires in automobiles.

A Christmas program will be presented in the First United Brethren church Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The first part of the program will be given by the choir, presenting several anthems, and the latter part will be given by the Sunday school in the form of a Christmas pageant entitled "Worship the King" by Valeria R. Lehman.

The complete program will be as follows:
 Prelude
 "Joy to the World" and "Christ Is Born" Choir
 "O Come All Ye Faithful" Congregation
 "He Careth For You," "The Lord Is My Light" and "Glory to God" Choir
 Scripture and Prayer—Rev. C. E. Dibble, pastor.

Announcements and offering: Pageant, "Worship the King", Benediction—Rev. Dibble.
 Characters in the pageant will be as follows: Three shepherds, Floyd Lindquist, Francis Fehlman, Paul Nelson; angel, Edith Shearer; King Herod, Leonard Nason; messengers, Dale Daniels and Billy Dyle; chief priests, Willis Fehlman and Charles Wetmore; scribes, Harold Gilson and Russell Nason; wise men, Harold Mader; Charles Lawson, Chris Caldwell; Mary, Blanche Callahan; Joseph, Evan Callahan.

 Announcements and benediction—Rev. J. C. Wygant, pastor.

A man is nine times as likely to be killed by lightning as a woman.

Christmas Sunday will be fittingly observed at the First Methodist church in the three services of the day. At the church school hour, 10 a. m., the various departments and classes will have their respective sessions and the Winter Gifts offering will be received, for later presentation at the five o'clock service.

At the 11 a. m. service of worship, the choir will present Matthew's cantata "The Story of Christmas", with Miss Jeannette Kelley, Mrs. Norman Williams, Miss Gladys Young, Bernard Ackert, Monroe Marshall, Clayton Sanden and Charles Tranter as soloists.

Dr. T. T. Colley, pastor, will talk about the third Christmas cantata, "The Magnificat", and Carroll A. Fowler will play the following organ numbers: "Christmas Rhapsody" by Ferrari, "Christmas in Sicily" by Yon, and "Joy to the World" by Lemare.

The annual White Gifts service will be presented by the church school at 5 p. m. in the sanctuary. "The Lighted Highway", written by Mattie Shamon, will be given by the following:

ROTARY MEETING
 The Rotary Club met Tuesday evening for their Christmas dinner-meeting. A short satirical playlet, "Dictators at Home" was given by Miss Phyllis Carr and Sylvia Gentile. There was special music by George Walters.
 A Christmas message was given by Rev. Wallace Johnson, of Chanders Valley, and pastor of the Chanders Valley, Freehold and Youngsville Lutheran churches.
 The men had a good deal of fun with their exchange of ten cent gifts, in a grab bag.

CONTEST ENDED
 The membership contest which was very successful ended for the American Legion and Auxiliary on Monday evening by a bountiful co-operative dinner served in the Legion rooms. Following the dinner the guests enjoyed an hour of music. Christmas carols and occasionally a number from war days were sung. Miss Address Smith was at the piano and Mrs. Roy Crandall acted as song leader.

now nicely settled. Mr. Dow is a government inspector at the National Forge and Ordnance Company of Irvine.
 Mrs. Anna Kay was hostess to the Violet Circle and a few invited guests Tuesday afternoon. A co-operative dinner was enjoyed and a social time with the exchange of gifts.
 The Boy and Girl Scouts are having Christmas parties Tuesday. Mrs. Charles Schnell has been quite ill for the past ten days but is now improving.

SANTA CLAUS EARLY
 Williamsport, Dec. 19—(AP)—Santa Clause came to Williamsport police court a week early today. Magistrate Charles E. Jackson announced an official moratorium on all offenders from now until Jan. 2. Declaring that he would accept no fines from now until that date, he indicated his judicial appeasement would apply to a dozen and undisposed motor code violations, five unpaid fines for gambling and any others in which he feels inclined to extend Christmas leniency in any other cases.

CHURCH ROOM ROBBED
 Lancaster, Dec. 19—(AP)—The purses of three members of the choir were stolen during services at the Lancaster Avenue Methodist church. The bags had been left in the vestment room during services.
ICEBERG MENACE
 Some 420 icebergs from Greenland's great glaciers drift into the North Atlantic every year. Some of these project into the air as high as 500 feet, but the average height is 150 feet above the water. Most of an iceberg's bulk lies below the water's level.
 Both the suicide and homicide rate in the United States declined in 1940.

CLASS OMITTED
 Coach Beck of the high school faculty announces there will be no Business Men's evening class at the gymnasium this week nor the next week.

Germany started the world war with 43 submarines but had 390 in service before the fighting ceased.

REBEKAHS WILL PLAN FOR PARTY
At six o'clock tomorrow evening, the Lady Warren Rebekahs and their families will meet in the lodge rooms for a tureen supper, followed by an eight o'clock lodge session.
At that time plans will be made for the Christmas parties to be held on December 27. Children of I. O. O. F. and Rebekah members will gather in the lodge rooms from one until four that afternoon for a program of entertainment and a treat. Each child must bring a ten-cent gift for exchange. In the evening the adults of the two groups will have their annual Christmas party.

TRINITY SERVICE LEAGUE MEETING
All members of the Trinity Service League are asked to meet in the parish house of Trinity Memorial Episcopal church at 6:15 o'clock Friday evening, bringing a tureen and helping to prepare the Christmas stockings for the children at St. Luke's at Kinzua.

SENIOR DIVISION OF WOMAN'S SOCIETY
The senior division of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist church will meet in Dunham parlors at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon for its annual Christmas party for the Ruth M. Smith Children's Home at Sheffield.

PRE-SCHOOL MOTHERS CHRISTMAS PARTY
A Christmas party for the Pre-School Mothers' Club members and their children will be held at the Y. W. C. A. activities building from three until five o'clock Saturday afternoon.

JEFFERSON UNIT CHRISTMAS MEETING
The theme of Christmas was the outstanding feature of the monthly meeting of Jefferson P. T. A. members, held at the school Monday evening. Mrs. Atkins was in charge of devotions, urging that all stress the true meaning of Christmas. She, accompanied by Miss Grayce Jolley, led the singing of carols. Miss Viola Lindmark, accompanied by Miss Harriet Lind, sang "The Birthday of the King" and "Manger Lullaby".
The address of the evening was given by Rev. John E. Bengtson, stressing the fact that "we teach much by what we say, more by what we do, but most by what we are". Miss Bell's room won the attendance award for the meeting and the 6B, 5A and 5B rooms served the refreshments.

SMITH CORNERS CLUB
Mrs. Paul Lauffenberger entertained the members of the Smith Corners Social Club at her home, with 16 members and several guests attending. Gifts were exchanged around a prettily decorated Christmas tree and, to conclude the afternoon, ice cream and cake were served. Guests were Mrs. Robert Lauffenberger and daughter, Florence, Mrs. Leon Lauffenberger and daughter, Leonette, Mrs. Miner Lauffenberger and son, Raymond.
The next meeting of the club will be held January 9 at the home of Mrs. Elmer Floss. Each member is asked to bring a handkerchief to honor the birthday anniversary of Miss Nettie Hoag.

Getting Under That Mistletoe Is Harder Than You Think

BY ROBERT E. GEIGER
AP Feature Service Writer

Poplar Bluff, Mo.—Tell your girl her mistletoe kisses better be good. Because someone risked life and limb just so you could smack her.

James Hendrickson, Poplar Bluff newspaper man, went along on a mistletoe harvesting expedition into southeast Missouri.

"When the day was over," he reported, "my clothing looked like it had been taken from some scarecrow. I was dog tired and my body was scratched and bruised from tromping through underbrush and briars and from edging and sloshing around. Once I almost tumbled into the river.

If it weren't for him...

Mistletoe is a parasite that grows on yew, gum, maple and a variety of trees. It is in clusters, the largest about the size of a wash tub.

On the branches are white berries. Birds eat these and deposit the seed on other trees. The seeds slip under loose bark where they sprout.

"Most of it grows in the tops of trees, along river banks," says Hendrickson. "Harvesting it is a man's size job and a dangerous occupation."

"A man can't get up to climb

...you couldn't do this.

the tree, far out upon the slender branches that sometimes bend double to get the mistletoe clusters. He has to do this carefully, as the clusters are fragile and are worthless if they are shattered.

"Then the climber lets down the clusters on the end of a rope to crew members on the ground. "Safety belts are disdained by the mistletoe hunters. Most of them depend upon their agility and their ability to climb to retain their good health."

Most of the Missouri mistletoe crew members are young boys or past mid-age men who look upon the mistletoe harvest as a seasonal chore.

The boys find it a means of raising extra Christmas money. The older men make a business of it, shipping the clusters in barrels to metropolitan centers where it usually brings a good price.

"And take it from me, you'll not be overcharged whatever you pay for it," says Hendrickson.

Russell

Russell, Dec. 19.—On Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, everyone in the community is invited to attend the service at the Community Christmas Tree on Main street next to Molls office. The band will play and Christmas carols will be sung. Santa will arrive and give candy and pop corn to all children who are present.

This evening at 8 o'clock the Christmas carols will be rendered at the church. Several singers from out of town are taking part. The choir has worked hard to present this program and a large crowd is desired.

The Aid group and Win Them Sunday school class enjoyed a dinner at the church Wednesday at one o'clock with nearly forty in attendance. At the business meeting Mrs. C. H. Ver Milyea presided with Mrs. Daniel Houghwot in charge of devotionals. A Christmas hymn opened the meeting. It was voted to pay $60. into the church treasury for the church insurance which is due in January. A committee was appointed to see about packing Christmas baskets. One new member was enrolled. Mrs. Pickard, Warren-Jamestown road. The contest will close at the next meeting. The captains, Mrs. Gery Briggs and Mrs. Edwin Branstrom are to report how much money they have taken in during the past year. Gifts were exchanged from a very pretty Christmas tree.

The members of the junior department of the Sunday school and their mothers are invited to a luncheon supper at the church Friday evening at 6 o'clock. A Christmas party will be held.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hedges spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Leach at Buffalo, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Enos had as their Sunday dinner guests Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Young.

Mrs. Katie Seager submitted to an eye operation at the W. C. A. hospital at Jamestown, Wednesday morning.

Earl Ruland who underwent a serious operation at the Jamestown hospital several weeks ago was removed to his home Monday evening.

TREE CLEAVES HOME

Chester, Pa., Dec. 19.—(P.)—An 80-foot tree, blown over by a high wind, cut like a meat cleaver through the Raymond Linzey home at nearby Upland yesterday. None of the four occupants was hurt, although the dwelling roof was crumpled, walls split apart and the building moved from its foundation.

Corry Beavers Clash With Dragon Quintet Here Tomorrow

Kolpienmen Seeking Fourth Consecutive Victory Of Season

The Corry Beavers will be guests of the Dragon quintet here tomorrow night as Coach "Hemie" Kolpien's combine attempts to annex its fourth victory out of six many starts.

After sneaking past Oil City and the Penn Merchants by a single point, the Blue and White court luminaries are anxious to step out for a little rehearsal on making the basket more consistently, and the Beavers are likely to find themselves mixed up in a scoring spree.

Coach Kolpien said this morning that Richard "Dick" Tucker, veteran defensive man, will be back in action after resting an injured foot throughout the Penn Merchants fray.

Either "Chuck" Hoffecker or "Sung" Brown will hold down the other post, with "Joimny" Dick at center and "Jap" Conroy and way at 8:30 o'clock.

BLUE AND WHITE GRIDDERS GIVEN THEIR LETTERS

Fifteen Dragon and warrior and three managers received their football letters yesterday afternoon at a special assembly program at the high school.

All of the lettermen were on hand except Bill Sperry, big left tackle, who is a patient at the Warren General Hospital. Sperry was presented with his sweater bearing the big block "W" at the hospital later in the day.

Those receiving their second "W" were Coachman Joe Tumburline, quarterback, and Walt Fredericks, guard. Ernest "Pidge" Stewart, a manager, was a member of the varsity squad last season but was ineligible to play this year.

Other lettermen were Richard Johnson, Robert Johnson, Donald Wolfe, Robert Brown, Jack Karl, Victor Hoffman, George Nivens, Myron Rydholm, James Jordan, Fred Leaders, Paul Zukowski, Fred Graham and Managers Leon Culbertson and Donald Buchart.

Tumburline, president of the athletic association, presided and presented each man with his letter after which Fredericks, secretary, gave "Joe" his second letter, Jack Karl, treasurer, was in charge of the devotionals.

All except "Dick" Johnson played their final season this fall.

STORES OWN WATER SUPPLY

Its own water for use in dry seasons is stored by the company, or plant cactus. Water is sucked up by its vast root system near the ground's surface, and conserved in the pulpy interior of the main plant.

SMALLEST MONKEY

The Brazilian pigmy monkey is the smallest known monkey in the world. It weighs four and one-half ounces, or twice as much as a mouse.

The Year On The Track

SPORT SCATTERINGS

That breath-taking 26-25 decision scored by the Dragons over the Penn Merchants (or Alumni, if you prefer) was highly encouraging to followers of the Blue and White quintet, for last year's stars, materially aided by "Lefty" Check, made up just about as nice a team as the Kolpienmen should be called upon to face. In addition, the Alumni just couldn't miss that hoop and chucked up some great circus shots—shots they could more easily have missed than made. Add to that the fact that Tucker saw all but five seconds of the tilt from the bench and the outlook appears pretty bright. Another encouraging factor is the capable reserve strength. With Tucker in at guard, either Hoffecker or "Sung" Brown is ready to jump in, and right behind are two crack shots in the persons of Gail Templeton and Martin Smith, plus the towering Bob Hansen, all of whom have had plenty of experience under fire. Unless this early success goes to their heads, the Dragons ought to do all right!

Clyde Moore, former coach of Youngsville High and a good friend of this corner, writes from Fort Wayne, enclosing a program of a cage encounter between the Detroit Eagles and the famous Renaissance which the ex-mentor witnessed Monday night. Among the interesting notes gleaned from the letter is the information that Bill Holland has finally turned his back on the National Professional League and is back in the oil game. Bill is now with Shell in Cleveland. Bud Jeanette, another former Warren player, is playing a great game with the Eagles and raring up nine points against the Rens as the Eagles bowed, 51-44. Clyde observed that the Detroit quint had trouble in getting the ball off the board and evidently missed Holland, as Dehnert admitted after the tilt. Nat Messenger, who provided a great show when he handled National League games at Beatty court, officiated.

The many local friends of Richard "Dick" Northrop, who visits Mr. and Mrs. George M. Cobb here very often and whose father, J. E. Northrop, is well known to Warren oil men, will be interested to learn that "Dick" has been named first-string end on the all-district scholastic football team, chosen recently by the Parkersburg, W. Va., News. Northrop, a junior at St. Mary's High, stands six feet and weighs 170 pounds. He had a brilliant season on the eleven, and the sports writers prophesy he will be right up in there for all-West Virginia honors next season. "His play this year was marked by brilliant pass receiving and throwing," the paper comments. "He has no equal in the section in blocking and is an aggressive defensive player." Northrop almost single-handedly won several games for the Blue Devils this season with his colorful play, and is feared on every gridiron in the section, as his record shows. In the coaches' voting for all-star selection, Northrop appeared on every ballot but one. Northrop, too, has the deadly passing arm that brought the Blue Devils several touchdowns this year and last season on the famed forward passing attack of the St. Mary's team. Another season is sure to find him one of the finest players in West Virginia football.

YEARS AGO IN SPORT

December 19, 1920—The Times-Mirror joins the host of individual citizens who are anxious to see an ice skating rink in the borough. Among the suggested sites for an outdoor rink are Russell Field and the Beatty flats, and even if we don't get it this year, it won't be very long before we do have one. (Ed. note: It'll be 20 years, anyway!)

December 19, 1930—Twenty-one Dragon gridders received their coveted letters this morning at the high school assembly, with Arthur Carlson, president of the athletic association, presiding. Among those receiving the "W" were six who had been lettermen before: J. D. Scalise, Tim Creal, "Moss" Gilson, Bob Kopf, "Bus" Irwin and "Foggy" Allen.

Sports Round-up

BY EDDIE BRIETZ

New York, Dec. 19—Tommy Harmon is being managed by Everett Crosby, Bing's brother. Jimmy Wilson is in town Xmas shopping for some of those Yanks and Dodgers supposed to be on the market. Fritzie Zivic is 5-8 over Lew Jenkins tomorrow night. Each Nebraska Cornhusker who is making the Bowl trip was given six tickets. Do you know what they are asking for them? 20 smuckers per copy. John J. Hettiche, chairman of the Michigan Boxing Commission, is here trying to bag Louis vs. Conn for Detroit. Pittsburg also bidding. P. S.: The fight will be held in the Yankee Stadium.

Today's Guest Star. Arthur E. Patterson, N. Y. Herald-Tribune: "Every one seems to think Bob Feller had a great year. But there's no getting around the fact that after pitching that no-hitter on opening day, he showed very little improvement."

Chatter Chatter. Some of the football Giants are reported going after those fat contracts the rival Yankees are offering. A Sheridan, Wyo., radio station has offered Tom Harmon a job and one of the inducements is that Tom's sweet spacy lives in Buffalo, only 40 miles away. Masseuse and a personal hair dresser are standard equipment for Sonja Honey when she goes on her skating tours. Lew Jenkins' kid brother came up from Texas to see the Zivic fight and the big town traffic has him down. He said: "Lew, what's the deal to do in New York? I've got dodging cats?" Bob Pastor, training for a comeback, will start against Floyd Gibbons in Detroit.

Won't Be Long Now. The minute football gasps its last And exits from the scene. You'll find the winter hot stove league.

All ready to convene. You get yourself a chew of plug And hear down on it hard. For it's the only circuit where The spitter isn't barred.

Sports Cocktail. The Brown Club of New York will present Coach Tuss McLaughry with a wrist watch at a dinner here tomorrow night. Young Horace Stoneham made a lot of friends for himself and the Glanias when he and Carl Hubbell and Mel Ott are Polo Grounds fixtures just as much as the stands. Play doctors are trying to patch up the late, lamented Max Baer musical. Maxie, meantime, flew to the coast to see the family.

Don't count John "Tarzan" Taylor. the line coach, out of the running for Paddy Driscoll's old job at Marquette. The Joe Louis help is expected next month. Fred Strader of St. Mary's (California) admits Tulsa U. has been fitting with him.

At Last! Fred M. Brice, who has coached football at U. of Maine, finally has made it. His seventh resignation was accepted. The athletic board paid no attention to the other six. And Marvin Cress, the Salisbury, N. C. High star who had touchdown runs of 78 and 95 yards called back last year, galloped 101 yards this past season and wasn't called back.

Everybody knows Judge Landis is death on baseball and horse racing mixing. Well, what Al Spokes, Jamestown sportscaster, wants to know is how the P-O-N-Y League ever slipped by.

It is estimated that 39 per cent of the total tax revenue of the 48 states during 1939 (exclusive of social security premiums) was provided by levies on motor vehicle owners.

Greasy Neale Signed To Coach Pittsburgh Steelers Next Year

Pittsburgh, Dec. 19.—(P)—"Greasy" Neale was back home today, back in the district where he learned football; learned it so well that it became his life work. It was from football that he got that inelegant nickname, too. In his playing days at West Virginia Wesleyan. They said then he must have been greased, he was that hard to stop. That was in 1912-13. And now at 46, after spending nearly 30 years in athletics, Earle Neale has come back to this district as the coach of the Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Professional Football League.

Neale resigned as assistant coach at Yale yesterday, hopped a train to Pittsburgh and last night signed a one-year contract to coach the Steelers for young Alexis Thompson, the new owner of the Pittsburgh Pros. He was given an option for two more years.

Neale was as good in baseball as in football. After leaving Wesleyan he played with London, Ont., in the Canadian Baseball League, and then in one spectacular leap advanced from that circuit to the outfield of the Cincinnati Reds. He later played for the Phillies and was coach of the St. Louis Cardinals.

He began his football coaching career in 1915 at Muskingum College, the following two years coached at West Virginia Wesleyan. Then he went to Washington and Jefferson in 1921.

Right off, the Presidents under Neale won 10 consecutive games and then went to the Rose Bowl to hold the mighty California Bears to a scoreless tie. Neale later coached the West Virginia University Mountaineers before going to Yale as assistant to Ducky Pond.

In 13 years of coaching prior to the West Virginia post, Neale developed teams that won 81 games, lost 13 and tied three. The three years at West Virginia were the best of his career, with the Mountaineers winning 12, losing 16 and tying three.

PITT TOPS BADGERS; DUKES BEAT OREGON

Pittsburgh, Dec. 19.—(P)—Pittsburgh district basketball teams came through with flying colors last night in five stirring games, featuring a double header in which Duquesne beat Oregon, 37 to 34, and Waynesburg trounced West Liberty Teachers, 36 to 23, before the largest crowd ever to witness a court contest here.

At Madison, Wis., Pitt's Panthies opened their season with a triumph, 36 to 34, over the tough Wisconsin Badgers. Eddie Stralowski rang up 19 points for Pitt.

Duquesne proved to 6,500 fans a fast little team can be better than a good big team, in their triumph. The Dukes overcame an early attack of jitters on the strange green covered floor after the Pacific Coast Giants had run up a 10-4 lead, and got the game-clinching points when Milwaukee zigzagged past a lanky defense man and lofted a one-hander into the hoop to take the lead 35 to 32.

The earth's past is divided into five eras, by scientists. These five eras, in turn, are divided into a total of 18 periods of varying lengths.

RECALLS VISIT

Gatty Sellers, famed English organist here to play at Trinity Memorial Episcopal church this evening, recalled this morning that it was just 24 years ago he first visited Warren, coming at the invitation of the late Prof. A. J. Mooney. In Warren he is also renewing acquaintance with M. H. Deardorff, for whom he played 24 years ago in the Presbyterian church at Brookville.

DIES IN WEST

Word has been received here of the death Wednesday in Portland, Ore., of Everett Stanton Collins, who at one time owned properties covering approximately 25,000 acres in Forest county. Property of the deceased and his father at one time included the entire village of Nebraska, Forest county, now abandoned because of the Tionesta dam.

The Greeks said yesterday they were pouring machine-gun fire into both Kilsura and Tepeleni and that Chimara also was within range of their attacking forces. They added that Italian reinforcements had been brought up in a determined effort to hold Chimara.

The Greek High Command last night reported that "successful local operations" had taken place "at various points of the front."

Snowstorms were reported to be slowing the tempo of the fighting on the northern front.

Meanwhile, the British Royal Air Force told of a "most successful" attack yesterday on the port of Valona, which is in the path of the Greeks' coastal column, 25 miles north of Chimara.

Bomber Crash Is Subject of Secret Inquiry

(From Page One)

Cove reported the plane appeared to cruise leisurely through broken clouds at about 8,000 feet and then develop mechanical trouble. It circled several times, then disappeared in the clouds.

A moment later an explosion occurred that could be heard six miles distant. Searchers arriving at the scene shortly afterward found the plane a mass of seared, twisted wreckage.

Officials at March Field, where about 36 planes similar to the type that crashed, are operated, indicated a report on the tragedy probably would not be made until a full investigation is completed.

London, Dec. 19.—(P)—News of the arms speedup in America and President Roosevelt's proposals to lend aid to Britain crowded the front pages of London newspapers today, and some sections of the press described the United States as a full-fledged ally in the war against Germany and Italy.

Who Killed Aunt Maggie?

By MEDORA FIELD

YESTERDAY: First Aunt Maggie was murdered. And then, next day, Eve Benedict was found with a dart in her heart. Lieutenant Gregory seems to think Bill, who with his wife was giving the housewarming party at which the tragedy occurred, must have done it. But although her beauty leads him to offer her every chance to clear herself, he is finding lovely Claire too close to Eve at the time of her death. And Sally, who is Bill's harassed wife, just has said more than she should.

Chapter 36 Irate Copper

STRANGE to say, Lieutenant Gregory did not immediately follow up the opening I had given when I informed him of my conversation with Eve. Instead of ordering that I inform him forthwith whether or not she definitely had committed herself and the name of the person involved, he gave me a long, speculative look and said, "We will go into that a little later." It seemed to me that every body in the room expected a bit of delay by this anticlimax and that Lieutenant Gregory derived some hidden satisfaction from the fact.

"Just now," he continued, "I should like for Miss Dunbar to tell me how she happened to tell Mrs. Benedict's room. And before we start I want to say that unless we can conduct this inquiry calmly and without a lot of interruption it will be my duty to have the lot of you sent to the tower and held on suspicion."

"The tower?" Kirk echoed uncertainly.

"The county jail, the big rock," Bill explained.

"Right," asked Lieutenant Gregory.

We all sat there dumbly. This was the first time since we had begun to realize that we could have over to Uncle Henry or to some other member of the family who had influence. This was something we had to take—or go to the tower.

"Now, Miss Dunbar," said Lieutenant Gregory, "will you answer my question?"

"What—what was it?" Alice replied.

"Why did you go to Mrs. Benedict's room?"

"Oh! Well, I went there for the same reason Claire did. I—that is—well, you see Claire and my brother are to be married. Eve Benedict came out here uninvited for the express purpose of breaking their engagement. She was a terrible person. She had no scruples and she appealed to the very worst in a man. She had been after my brother since before she divorced her second husband."

"What happened to her first husband?" Lieutenant Gregory asked.

"Did she divorce him?" I mean not until after he disappeared."

"What do you mean, disappeared?"

"He just disappeared and nobody knows what happened to him, except—"

"Stick to the facts, Miss Dunbar."

"Well, I was just thinking," said Alice, and a look of quickly veiled craftiness came into her eyes, "that he must have hated her terribly. Do you think he might have come back and killed her?"

The question seemed to be addressed to no one in particular, but I prayed Lieutenant Gregory would hold Alice to his original line of inquiry. With all that had happened at Wisteria Hall I did not feel that I could listen to two recitals of that ugly story in one day.

"Do you have any reason to think he might have come back, Miss Dunbar?" Evidently my prayer was not to be answered.

"I do not believe this can possibly have any connection with Mrs. Benedict's death," my husband objected.

Lieutenant Gregory immediately suspicious, turned on Bill angrily. "We were to conduct this inquiry without interference," he reminded.

"Sorry," Bill acknowledged.

"My mistake."

"Now, Miss Dunbar—"

Red Hearing

"Well, you see," Alice began, and the spiteful gleam in her eyes showed plainly how much she enjoyed this opportunity to give what she considered the low-down on Eve. "It all began with her first honeymoon—Eve's, I mean."

When the story was finished, Lieutenant Gregory looked just a little sheepish as he inquired the whereabouts of Eve's second husband. No doubt, he guessed by then that Alice had simply been trying to divert suspicion from herself.

"I suppose Frank Benedict is in town," Alice told him casually.

"Make a note to get in touch with Frank Benedict as soon as we are through with this inquiry," Roberts was told.

"But—" I began, then stopped, remembering Lieutenant Gregory's edict.

"Yes?" he asked.

"I was only going to say that I don't see how he could have anything to do with Eve's death."

"Was she collecting alimony?"

"Oh, yes," Alice breathed "Loads of it."

"Pretty good motive, anyway," said the officer. "Miss Dunbar, when you went to Mrs. Benedict's room, I gather that you meant to tell her to keep off the grass?"

"Yes, I wanted to tell her to leave my brother alone. She—"

"Don't, Alice," Bob pleaded.

"But it is true," Alice's voice rose shrill and high. "She would have got you back. Oh, she was vile, vile. Why did Bill bring her out here uninvited except that she is the sort of woman that men—"

"Alice," I cried, indignantly, as Bill opened his mouth to speak, then shut it resolutely. "You know that isn't true!"

"Of course," said Bob placating. "Alice is just upset and doesn't know what she's saying."

Lieutenant Gregory held up his hand for silence. "Let's leave personalities out of this," he told Alice. "Did you have any success with Mrs. Benedict?" I realized that his voice was far too casual, but Alice rushed recklessly on.

"I went to her room twice before I really went in," she said. "The first time, as I came out of my own room, I saw Bob leaving—"

"Alice put her hand over her mouth, stopping the words too late."

"Why, Alice," said Bob quickly. "Why didn't you say this before? Perhaps you've given me an alibi!"

"Yes, of course," Alice agreed eagerly. "I was going to say so, but all this noise was so upsetting."

COUNTY SCHOOL DISTRICTS GET AID FROM STATE

Warren county school districts will receive $4,415.50 from the state as their share of $1,405,266.37 which was authorized today by Auditor General Warren R. Roberts for those districts that offered regular vocational education courses during the last school year.

Of the entire amount paid, $1,052,361.07 was contributed to the state from the federal government, and payments to the school districts are for full, part time and evening courses in vocational agriculture, home economics, trade and industry and distributive occupations.

High School A Cappella Choir Presenting The Spirit of Christmas Concert Tonight

The final dress rehearsal has been held, every detail of an elaborate stage setting has been attended to and at 8:15 o'clock this evening in the high school auditorium, the a cappella choir members will have the privilege and pleasure of presenting their annual Christmas concert for their friends.

"The Spirit of Christmas" is the theme of the program, which will be given under the direction of Carroll A. Fowler. The program is a distinctly different one in several ways and has been prepared with thoughtful care.

In addition to members of the choir appearing, Harry Summers will direct the high school string ensemble in two selections and Miss Anna Louise Kahl will supervise presentation of carols in pantomime. Only a small admission to cover expenses is asked and the choir members are hoping that the auditorium will be filled to capacity for the following program:

- I.
Reading—The Christmas Story from Luke II. Willan
Anthem The Three Kings ..... Garrison
Reading Ballad of King's Gifts ..... Warlock
Carol—Benedictus Domino ..... Kilmer

Even Turkey Buying Has Its Rules, Declares Mrs. Mabel Bowen, Reviewing Guides That Eliminate "Tough" Holiday Problems

Dear Friends in Warren:

When turkey is tough it usually is very tough indeed, and when it is bad it is horrid.

Unlike the weather, something is done about tough turkey. At least, the personal shopper is given a series of practical guidesposts which should lead her to successful buying and a happy holiday.

Never has there been such a turkey supply, with 53,000,000 birds brought to maturity in time to be stuffed, roasted, admitted and munched on the big holidays. As a result of the generous supply, the price dropped to a new low this year, just a dime or so above the hamburger level. Thanksgiving saw prime fresh killed turkeys in the budget level, and Christmas and New Year's should continue the reasonable offerings. Of course, superior birds from favored sections, bred on special diets, brought extra prices to recompense extra care.

First on every list of Guides to Worried Turkey Buyers is the familiar suggestion about prodding the breast bone, since a pliable breast bone indicates that the bird is young. The seasoned shopper says sternly:

"Stand on your right to see if that breast bone is pliant."

However, the butcher has a justifiable objection when processions of customers demand the right to prod a series of turkeys with an inquisitive finger. Remember this and excuse him when he is firm:

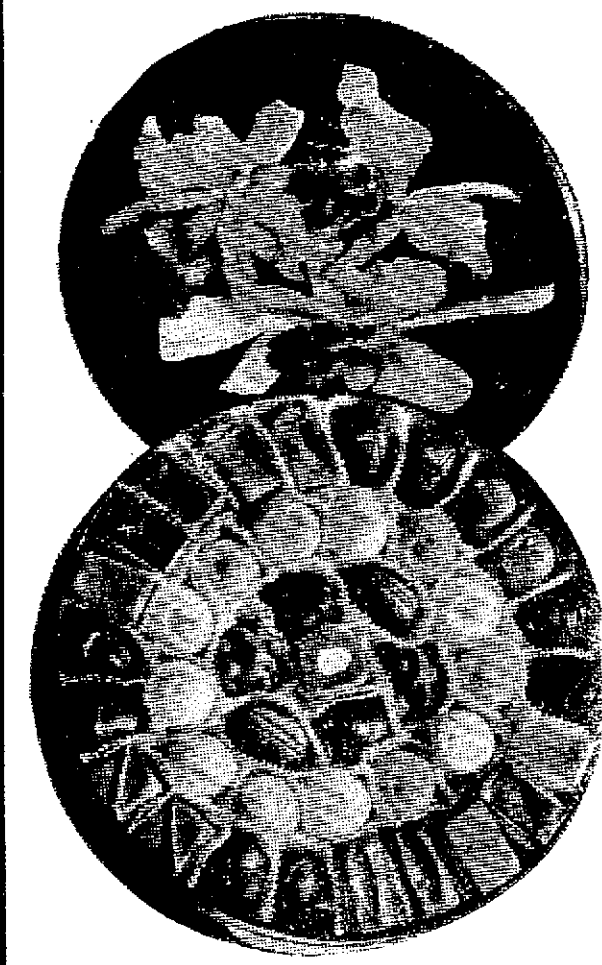

If too many buyers have tested the bird at this strategic spot, the tough cartilage may have been softened before you examine it. Butchers are not overfond of bruising the meat. Press at the lower part of the bone when you do test.

Check No. 2: Study the feet. Black feet signify youth in a turkey and pink feet mean the bird is from 1 to 3 years old, just an adolescent. If the bird has gray feet, he not only is over 3, but may be a tough old veteran, home from the wars.

Check No. 3: Study the skin. If it is bright, finely textured and transparent enough to hint of the golden layer of fat underneath, the turkey will be applauded. A coarse-grained skin denotes age.

Grocers and government experts this year united in the practical suggestion: Buy a large tom turkey, otherwise known as a gobble. The explanation is simple. Nature produces just as many toms as it does hens, but most families want a small bird under ten pounds, and thus hens always are more popular. The majority of stores have been offering the larger toms at a lower price per pound, making a 12
